

These telemarketers are arguing about freedom of speech which is great, and understandable, but what about our right as citizens to privacy. If they want to hold street signs, great... that's freedom of speech ,but stay out of my house.